Instructions. Complete the following steps.

2. Read the Principles behind the Agile Manifesto (from http://agilemanifesto.org/) handed out in class.

3. In your own words, describe what you think is the motivation behind each of the Agile principles. That is, think about and explain why the authors of the manifesto included each of the principles. You should incorporate into your answers as appropriate what we have covered in class so far, including the state of the software engineering industry, the classic mistakes, and the software development lifecycles. You should also use the Agile Software Development paper (step 1) as a guide. You can also (and are encouraged to) use other sources as needed, however, be sure to write your answers in your own words.

4. Write down your answers clearly (preferrably typed), and include your name and any sources you used. Turn in your answers in class on the due date.
